Debborah Charboneau, Instructor

Start Date: August 22, 2011

This comprehensive, foundational art class is intended for the beginner art student with no drawing experience and also for students with previous experience who aspire to achieve more.

During this 10 week course, students will be guided through a variety of topics including

- Basic use of the tools and materials of drawing
- Perspective
- Light and Shade
- Tonal Values
- Texture
- Color
- Composition

Cost: $140/student plus $25 registration fee (waived if taking any CFA private lessons)

About the instructor:

Born with God-given gifts for creativity and art, Debborah Charboneau began painting in her early teen years, and within a short time of completing high school, her art work began to sell. Because of her love for art, Debborah pursued formal training through Mesa Community College and Design School in Sacramento, California. In addition to her roles as a busy wife and mother to a now teen-aged son, in 1999, Debborah founded Mural, Mural on the Wall; a mural painting business through which her gifts inspire and bring joy to others. While Debborah's art graces the walls of numerous, mostly residential, but also some commercial settings, her spirit graces the lives of her students as she helps them to discover and develop their own artistic gifts.
